SOLONS BUSY MAKING LAWS AT SACRAMENTO

"CAVEMAN" WOOING TACTICS OBJECTED TO

Engagement of Duc d'Crussol and Duchess de Chaulnes Has Been Broken

(By International News Service)

PARIS, March 17.—The engagement of the Duc d'Crussol and the Duchess de Chaulnes, daughter of the late Theo P. Shonts of New York, has been broken off because of the "cave man wooing tactics" of the ardent young suitor, it was learned today.

The young man wanted the marriage to take place at once and refused to hear any arguments in favor of a postponement. The duchess and her mother wanted the ceremony postponed for several months in order that preparations might be made for an elaborate event.

The insistence of the duke is said to have caused a scene at the palace of the duchess at Lyon. Angered by the arguments of his fiancee, the duke motored to Monte Carlo, vowing that he would forget everything.

It is reported from Monte Carlo that the duc has succeeded admirably in wiping out the sad memory of his blasted romance. He is a familiar figure at the Casino and is playing a prominent part at the dances of the younger nobility.

There are reports that the duke has so far overcome the tragic memory that he has been making mad love to a Spanish beauty, accompanying her to dances and the tennis courts.

Friends of the duke are trying to patch up the affair between him and the Duchess de Chaulnes and they insist that his affair with the Spanish beauty is only temporary infatuation such as he once had for Gaby des Lys when he followed her to the United States.

R. HAYES HAMILTON ADDRESSES PUPILS

Pupils of Glendale schools were addressed today in groups of two schools at a time by R. Hayes Hamilton, assistant director general of the Association for the Restoration and Preservation of California Missions.

Mr. Hamilton gave his lecture at 9 a. m. at the Central avenue school, at 10:30 at the Broadway school, at 12:30 at a special assembly at the high school, and at 2:30 at the intermediate school. He spoke to 2500 children, in all, in this city. His subject was "Historical California," and it was illustrated with beautiful stereopticon scenes taken from John McGroarty's famous "Mission Play."

At the high school Mr. Hamilton gave a different lecture, "The Four Flags of California—the Spanish, Mexican, Bear or Republic and the American.

John McGroarty is now director general of the organization whose laudable object is the restoration and preservation of the old Missions of California. Mr. McGroarty is giving his valuable services absolutely without money and without price. He and the 150 actors in the "Mission Play" have taken the first book of 150 coupons at $1 each. The proceeds of these coupon books go toward the cost of restoring the missions. Not a cent is used for salaries.

Glendale school children will attend the "Mission Play" on next Tuesday. Two special cars have already been spoken for and the indications are that another can, and perhaps two others, will be needed to accommodate the children.

DR. F. W. GUNSAULUS PASSED AWAY TODAY

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 17.—Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, president and one of the founders of the Armour Institute of Technology and one of the most noted ministers of the present day, died here at 4 o'clock this morning. The end came two hours after he had been stricken unexpectedly with heart disease.

QUARTER MILLION AT NOON TODAY

Permits Issued This Forenoon Bring Total to $248,828; Year to Date $590,289

Harry Hague is building another new residence on his tract, at 1215 South Central, to have seven rooms and cost $4000. J. F. Stanford, who has built and sold many new homes in Glendale during the past year, took out permits for two more this morning, one of six rooms to be located at 125 North Adams and to cost, including the accompanying garage, $4400; the other at 444 West California, to contain five rooms and cost $3850.

New homes have been completed as follows: G. R. Culver's at 234 Concord, W. H. Gage's at 1306 Kenneth road, F. R. Teiser's at 1365 East Garfield and Earl Reed's at 1419 East Maple.

Mrs. Vreeland has moved from 407 East Chestnut to 501 Milford, Mrs. Woodside from 912 East California to Balboa, W. E. Theobald from 312 West Acacia to 365 Hawthorne, G. E. Porter from 304 East Harvard to 209 E. Park, J. W. Bennett from 314 West Colorado to 1030 South Brand, J. W. Mueller to 1417 South Central, Agnes Duke to 521 East Wilson and Catherine M. Lytle to 515 East Wilson.

PERSONAL SERVICE IN CITY BUILDING

About 75 members of the Chamber of Commerce enjoyed the good dinner served at the forum today at the Masonic Temple. In the absence of the president and vice president Roy Kent presided and introduced Mr. Rhoades, secretary of the chamber. In his brief acknowledgment of a greeting of applause Mr. Rhoades urged the members to swell the attendance of the forum by each making a point of inviting two guests. He called for a rising response of those who would agree to do this and about 21 ladies and gentlemen turned in their names.

Mr. Kent then introduced Attorney Walter C. Fisher of Burbank, who addressed the chamber on "Personal Service in Community Building." He gave Webster's definition of "community," "an aggregation of people who have an interest in common." It means, said he, "that each has an undivided interest in the whole."

He pointed out the difference between the physical city of Glendale, marked by certain obvious boundary lines, and the community of Glendale, limited only by the desires of its residents, saying he was interested in building the community spirit.

He declared the first thing every member of a community should do is to refrain from doing the thing that is easiest to do—"knocking" (applause). The knocker he described as one who tears down and substitutes nothing in place of that destroyed. Every leader is accused of selfish motives and every movement has its wolf. He said you cannot have a pretty, modern, up-to-date physical city without having a progressive, optimistic, hopeful, psychological city.

He closed by asking the cooperation of the city of Glendale in the paving of a boulevard which is to connect Burbank and Hollywood. About 1200 feet of Eleventh street, one of the thoroughfares in this boulevard, is half in Burbank and half in Glendale, and for that reason Burbank is asking for this cooperation in a boulevard which begins at San Bernardino, traverses Pasadena and Glendale via Colorado, then up Central to Grand View, then north to the residence of L. C. Brand, then by Olive, Dark Canyon and Cahuenga, down to Los Feliz road and on to Hollywood.

BANDITS SECURE MUCH JEWELRY

NEW YORK, March 17.—Four masked bandits secured between $80,000 and $100,000 in platinum jewelry in a holdup late yesterday Inspector John Coughlin, head of the detective bureau revealed today.

The robbers walked into the rooms of the Fochi Manufacturing Co., Inc., pointed revolvers at two employes and told them that a move meant death. Opening two suit cases, they raked all the jewelry in sight into them. They then walked quietly out of the place and escaped in an automobile.

ENDLAND-RUSSIA ON PRE-WAR BASIS

Has Commenced to Move Many Millions of Dollars Worth of Goods

(By International News Service)

LONDON, March 17.—Except for the absence of diplomatic relations, Great Britain today occupies the same position toward Russia she did before the war. Following the signing of the Russo-British commercial greement yesterday, preparations were commenced today to move millions of dollars worth of British goods into Russia.

Labor leaders are jubilant over the outlook, for they assert that the trad relations with Russia will give wor to thousands of unemployed.

British exporters will begin sending tools of all kinds, agricultural machinery, locomotives, rails, typewriters, shoes, cotton and woolen goods. The soviet government will pay for the goods with gold until Russia is in a position to begin exchanging raw materials for the finished goods. There is a large surplus accumulation of goods in Great Britain, owing chiefly to the German blockade and the stagnation in trade with the balance of Europe. The British warehouses are crammed with this merchandise.

The successful termination of the Anglo-Russian trade negotiations after a year of conversations is one of the most important victories achieved since it was established more than three years ago.

The influx of merchandise will give Nicolai Lenine an opportunity to justify his contention that the lifting of the anti-Russian blockade would put the soviet government in an impregnable position.

It is considered likely that other governments will follow the action of Great Britain in opening trade with Russia. It is pointed out that Washington D. Vanderlip, head of the American syndicate which secured important concessions from Russia, is at present in Moscow conferring with the supreme council of the soviet government. So far, however, the United States has not taken any outward steps toward opening commercial relations with Russia.

FAMILY REUNION AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hart, with their children, Charles and Louise, were guests the other evening at a hilarious "tacky party" given at the Hollywood home of Mrs. Hart's brother, Frank R. Putnam.

The affair was a celebration of the birthday of Mrs. M. T. Putnam, mother of Mrs. Hart, and was notable from the fact that it was the first time in 30 years that the entire family had been together. Besides Mrs. Hart, other children of Mrs. Putnam who were present were Frank R. Putnam, Fred R. Putnam, Albert A. Putnam, and Mrs. C. R. Bird. These, with their respective families made a party of 40 guests.

Mrs. M. T. Putnam, the honor guest, won the first prize for the tackiest costume, while the second prize went to Mrs. Albert Putnam. Music and conversation were the diversions of the evening and ice cream and cake were served.

MACHINE RUNS AMUCK; HITS FOUR

Two Men, One of Whom Is Officer Wells, Also Two Children, Are Hurt

Two men, two children, a telephone post and a motorcycle all were struck by one auto last evening at the corner of Los Feliz and San Fernando and all more or less damaged. Only the lady who was drriving the car escaped and she had somewhat of a nervous shock. Her name is Mrs. W. C. Hauber and she lives at 2027 Reservoir street, Los Angeles. Her husband explained later that she had been ill and he bought her a large car so she could be out in the open a good deal but he thought it must be too heavy for her to handle, judging from the experience. She was driving north on San Fernando road and was going so fast she could not make the turn west on Los Feliz quickly enough to prevent her auto striking the curb, then a telephone pole. Two children standing on the parkway were brushed aside by the heavy car, which next struck Officer Wells and George M. Booth, the latter living on South Brand. The children were scratched and bruised somewhat and the men are still limping on account of having been bumped pretty hard. The motorcycle was considerably damaged. The lady took all the blame and the matter was satisfactorily adjusted.

WAS GOING BACK TO FORMER HUSBAND

(By International News Service)

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 17.—Mrs. Helen Widholm, divorcee, died early today of a bullet wound inflicted by Arthur Bauscher, 31, wealthy florist of Freeport, whose repeated offers of marriage she had rejected. Bauscher had previously died from wounds self-inflicted after he had shot Mrs. Widholm.

Mrs. Widholm was on her way to a reconciliation with her former husband, Arthur Widholm, an automobile salesman of Rockford. She had just told Bauscher that she did not love him and was going to be remarried to Widholm. The shooting occurred just as Bauscher and Mrs. Widholm were alighting from an interurban car.

Mrs. Widholm became estranged from her husband about six months ago and filed suit for divorce. She went to Freeport and obtained employment in the Bauscher greenhouses.

Then began an infatuation which ended today in tragedy. Three weeks ago she obtained a divorce decree and Bauscher is said to have proposed immediately. Mrs. Widholm refused.

Mrs. Widholm's mother said today that her daughter told her yesterday she was going back to her former husband. She boarded a train at Freeport for Rockford at 11 o'clock last night. Bauscher jumped aboard just as the car started. On the journey to Rockford Mrs. Widholm again refused to heed Bauscher's love plea. Finally Bauscher fell silent. As they descended from the steps of the car Bauscher preceded Mrs. Widholm and as he alighted on the station platform he turned and fired, the bullet penetrating her right temple. Bauscher then fired into his own brain.

BRITAIN ANXIOUS FOR AGREEMENT

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The announcement in London by the first lord of the British admiralty that Great Britain is not only ready but anxious to reach a naval understanding with the United States, was received with great interest in Washington. Lord Lee's frank statement on England's position, following as it did the reduction in England's naval estimate for 1922, was regarded as highly significant.

The Jitney Tax Fight Is Being Staged As a Miniature King Tax Controversy

EIGHT HOURS FOR R. R. EMPLOYES

Quite a Flurry Over Prospects of a Wet and Dry Fight Looming at State Capitol

(By International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—The jitney tax fight—which is being staged as a miniature King tax controversy—is to come to a head before the revenue and taxation committee of the senate at 8 p. m., on March 23. William Vance Hill, representing the California electric railway association, is trying to have a hearing on the eight-hour proposal for electric railway employes which is set for the same date before the labor and capital committee, postponed, and if he is successful, a joint hearing will be held on both the Shearer and Hume bills. The measure introduced by Senator Shearer from Siskiyou calls for a 7 per cent tax on the gross receipts for motor transportation companies operating in the state. The other bill, of which Assemblyman Hume of Oxnard is the author, would increase the tax to 10 per cent.

Shearer was one of the opponents of the King bill, and he is following up with his motor vehicle bill as one of the methods which the state has at hand for tapping new sources of revenue. Hume had given notice long before the corporation increases were announced of his intention to seek a tax on the smaller transportation companies. It has been his contention that the motor trucks and busses cause most of the wear and tear of the state highways and yet contribute nothing to their support.

There is quite a flurry on here over the prospects of the wet and dry fight. The Badaracco and Hornblower "wet" resolutions are due to be taken up at today's session, but there is the possibility that someone may move to have the assembly postpone its vote. Hornblower's resolution had a test vote Tuesday and the house was deadlocked 33 to 33. Badaracco, the author of the other light wine and beer measure, has been unwilling to bring it up out of order because of the impossibility of securing 54 votes.

PICKET PLANS ARE ABANDONED

ATLANTA, Ga., March 17.—Plans of socialists to picket the White House on April 13 and 14 in behalf of Eugene V. Debs, have been abandoned, it was announced here today by Samuel M. Castleton, attorney for Debs, at the request of the famous prisoner himself. Word that Debs desired the plans to be abandoned was taken to Castleton by Otto Branstetter, national executive secretary of the socialist party, who visited Debs. Bars against any visitors for Debs were let down long enough to allow a brief conference between Debs and Branstetter.

CLARA SMITH HAMON CASE GOES TO JURY

By MILDRED MORRIS
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

COURTROOM, ARDMORE, Okla., March 17.—The actual trial of Clara Smith Hamon on a charge of murdering Jake L. Hamon, political autocrat and oil king of the southwest, ended shortly after 10 o'clock today.

Both prosecution and defense rested their cases at that time and adjournment was taken until 3 o'clock for Trial Judge Thomas W. Champion to prepare his instructions to the jury.

When Judge Champion has pointed out the law to the 12 "good men and true" who hold Clara's fate in their hands, attorneys for the prosecution and defense will then give their final arguments.

GLENDALE RESERVOIR IS MAKING PROGRESS

Work on the new Glendale reservoir in Verdugo canyon, excavations for which were begun on February 20, is progressing rapidly under the direction of Peter L. Ferry, contractor.

Four carloads of lumber are being unloaded today for the roof. This huge reservoir covers a space of two acres. The floor is of cement and the walls will be 24 feet high, of four-inch concrete, reinforced with steel. The reservoir is for storage only, it will hold seven and one-half million gallons of water, moved by immense gravity pressure.

Two carloads of 30-inch cast-iron pipe for leads down to the other reservoir have arrived from Birmingham, Alabama.

COLLEGE GLEE CLUB WINS PANAMA TRIP

(By International News Service)

MARTINS FERRY, March 17.—Alumni of Ohio Wesleyan University have received word that the O. W. U. Glee Club, which gave a concert here while on its Pittsburgh district tour during the holidays, will enjoy a free trip to the Panama Canal Zone next summer. Each year the government selects a college organization to make the trip to provide entertainment for Panama Canal employes, paying all expenses of the trip.

BASEBALL CASES ARE DISMISSED

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 17.—Prosecution of the seven Chicago White Sox players indicted in the 1919 world's series scandal was ended today, so far as state authorities are concerned, when State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe appeared in person before Judge William E. Dover and asked that the cases be dismissed.

Efforts by defending counsel to have the cases of six others implicated in the baseball scandal dismissed were fruitless and these cases were merely put on call, which means that they will be heard at some indefinite date.

The players whose cases were "nolle prossed" today were Eddie Cicotte, Charles (Swede) Risberg, Oscar (Happy) Felsch, Geo. (Buck) Weaver, Fred McMullen, Claude (Lefty) Williams and Joe Jackson.

The cases of William Burns, Arnold (Chick) Gandil, Hal Chase, Jos. Sullivan, Raphael Brown and "Abe" Attell, former featherweight pugilistic champion named as a "fixer" were put on call.

SECURE $100,000 FOR IRISH RELIEF

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—The gaiety which has marked observance of St. Patrick's Day in other years was missing in Washington today. Leaders of the Irish cause whose headquarters are here discouraged play making and hilarity because of the conditions in Ireland.

Instead of the usual parading and light gaiety, Irish sympathizers observed the day by starting a drive to secure $100,000 for Irish relief.

Republican leaders said that plans for big processions in the southern cities had been called off owing to fears of interference by the British military authorities.

WILLIAM R. PHELON CITIZENS CANDIDATE

W. R. Phelon, the Citizens' candidate for high school trustee, in an interview today informed your correspondent that he is a Hoosier by birth, a Californian by adoption, and a pioneer of Glendale, his parents having built the third house on what is now Glendale avenue, the balance of the city at that time consisting, principally, of live oaks, sage brush, and jack rabbits. In 1886, they left Glendale and returned in 1896. Mr. Phelon enlisted at the beginning of the Spanish American war with D Battery, 1st California Heavy Artillery and served during the war with Spain, also, in the Philippine insurrection as sergeant. In 1910, he again came to Glendale as division manager of the Southern California Gas Company. He is a member of the two largest fraternal orders in this district, the Masons and the Elks. He has always taken an active interest in all of the local civic affairs, never allowing religious or political opinions to influence him in what he considered to be for the best interests of the city. Being a business man, Mr. Phelon is especially interested in the practical side of education. "Statistics," Mr. Phelon says, "shows that but 4 per cent of the graduates of high schools even enter college. This has convinced him that every effort should be made to fit the student for the stern realities of life, rather than taking up the time of those, who do not intend to enter college with studies that will be of no practical value in business. Mr. Phelon's long residence in this city has given him a broad vision of Glendale's future. He has realized the necessity of planning ahead, on a scale large enough to keep the pace with the development of the future, and visions a greater city and a high school that will be in size and location a credit to a greater Glendale. He realizes that the matter of an adequate new location is the immediate issue, the balance to be taken care of as the future may indicate.

POSTAL SERVICE TO BE HUMANIZED

Postmaster General Hays made the following statement today:

"The postal establishment is not an institution for profit or politics; it is an institution for service, and it is the President's purpose that every effort shall be made to improve that service.

"Every effort shall be exercised to humanize the industry. Labor is not a commodity. That idea was abandoned 1921 years ago next Easter. There are 300,000 employes. They have the brain and they have the hand to do the job well; and they shall have the heart to do it well. We purpose to approach this matter so that they shall be partners with us in this business. It is a great human institution touching every individual in the country. I know that with 300,000 men and women pledged to serve all the people and honestly discharging that duty, fairly treated and properly appreciated, all partners with us here in this great enterprise, we can do the job. It's going to be done."

PALM SUNDAY AT ST. MARK'S CHURCH

Sunday, March 20, will be Palm Sunday, and the services at St. Mark's will be appropriate to the day. The day commemorates the entry of Christ into Jerusalem, riding upon a lowly beast of burden, and acclaimed with waving of palms and shouting of hozannas, and the services for the day are of peculiar signicance. The Rev. Dr. Conrad will officiate at the 11 o'clock service and the Rev. C. E. Webb at 7:30.

Friday, March 25, will be Good Friday. There will be services at St. Mark's at 10 a. m., conducted by Dr. Cornell.

The Rt. Rev. Dr. Stevens, bishop coadjutor, will visit St. Mark's for the purpose of administering the apostolic rite of confirmation on Sunday evening, April 24, at 7:30 p. m. At this service Bishop Stevens will preach.

On the rst Sunday after Easter, April 3, Dr. Cornell will meet the candidates for confirmation in the church at 10 a. m., and thereafter at the same hour until the bishop's visitation.

READING CIRCLE'S GIFT TO LITTLE SISTER

About 50 members registered at the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the city library over which Mrs. A. A. Barton presided, Wednesday.

Instead of the customary review assigned to Mrs. Crawford, she read an amusing skit, "The Prestons," by Mary Heaton Vorse.

The reading from the current book, "Our Boy, His Nature and Nurture," by George A. Dickinson, was by Mrs. Eustace B. Moore.

Mrs. Burr brought to the meeting a book by Elizabeth Harrison, "The Study of Child Nature," in which the chairman and members present inscribed their names and the volume will be presented to the reading circle of Pasadena, which has just been organized.

On account of the Easter holidays there will be no meeting of the circle next week. When it next assembles, March 30, there will be a sale of home-made pies to swell the reserve fund.

HAS LONG TITLE BUT SHORT SALARY

(By International News Service)

MARTINS FERRY, O., March 17.—Health Officer W. S. Tilton is on the warpath.

For the princely salary of $1 a year he permitted the state health board to call him "assistant collaborating epidermiologist," a title conferred a year ago without solicitation.

He says his salary is almost due and that unless the pay check comes soon he will give up the title, although he has just learned to pronounce the whole of it.

FREDERICK O'BRIEN MAKES FLYING CALL

Frederick O'Brien, the distinguished author whose home is at 501 South Pacific avenue, made a flying call upon the editor of the Glendale Press this morning to say goodbye before leaving for San Francisco. There he will take a steamer for Samoan waters where a yacht called the "Wisdom II" awaits him and his party. In that yacht they expect to cruise around the south seas for a couple of years. It is one of the finest yachts on the Pacific coast having been equipped with wireless, an ice plant, a plant for taking moving pictures, developing, printing and showing them. Pictures of savages will be taken and then these primitive peoples will be invited to come and see how they look on the screen. Passengers on the yacht will include naturalists and scientists of al lsorts who will make a study of the south sea fauna and flora and its general life.

Mr. O'Brien, whose "White Shadows in the South Seas" is credited with the biggest sales of any volume of its class in recent years, has a new book coming out April 15 which is being published by the Century company of New York. It is entitled "Mystic Isles of the South Seas." The book he is to write on this voyage will be along similar lines but among the more wild, savage people of the Solomon Islands, the New Hebrides and Fijis.

ELECTED CHAPLAIN OF LOCAL COUNCIL

The meeting of Glendale Council, Knights of Columbus, last evening was attended by a large and enthusiastic body of the members.

Father E. Leguyader, pastor of Holy Trinity church, Burbank, has transferred his membership from Corpus Christi, Texas, to the Glendale council, and was elected chaplain of the local council at last evening's meeting. Father Leguyader is a man of splendid ability and has built up the parish of the Burbank church.

The council voted a large donation to Irish relief work at its meeting last evening. A fine luncheon was served by Chef Jack Thomas, of the White Inn, in the council chambers, at the conclusion of the business session.

LUNCHEON FOR OLD FRIEND FROM CHICAGO

Mrs. J. F. Hearnshaw was hostess Wednesday at a luncheon given in honor of a dear friend, Mrs. Kane from Chicago who has been in California for about a year and a half. Freesias and daffodils featured the floral decoration of the table which was very smart in its appointments. Following the luncheon a social and musical afternoon was enjoyed. The list of invited guests included: Mmes. Parker, Clotworthy, Perkins, Glover, Sanders, Gibson and Nash and Miss Ringert.

NEW FAMILY COMES FROM EAGLE ROCK

Miss Linnie V. Marsh, librarian of the Jefferson high school, who has been living in Eagle Rock, has rented a five-room bungalow at 1107 Melrose street of which she, her invalid father and her housekeeper will take possession Friday. She is the fourth member of the Jefferson high faculty to choose Glendale for residence. Others are Miss Clara Boss, teacher of Latin, who has been a resident of Glendale for several years; Roy B. Coeur, teacher of drawing and wood work; W. D. Root, teacher of United States history and civil government.

INSPECTOR APPROVES THE NEW HOSPITAL

Miss Anne C. Jamme, inspector for the state board of registration of nurses and president of the national league of nursing associations, visited the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital a few days ago and inspected the new buildings and equipment, which she praised highly, especially the chart table on which the records of the nurses are kept. E. B. Elias has made a set of photographs which will be used by her to illustrate an article for one of the prominent medical journals.

"AIR LORRY" WILL LIFT FOUR TONS

(By International News Service)

LONDON, March 17.—The commercial world is promised an air lorry in the near future. It will be capable of carrying four tons of goods at an average speed of about 75 miles an hour.

The machine is the result of experiments with a new type of wing, known as the "Alula," which is a faithful copy of the wing of a gull and capable of remarkable "life."

It will have an unusual wing spread span and both wings and body reproduce the form of a bird.

NOTES OF GLENDALE SANITARIUM

Among those who are patients at the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital this week are the following: Mrs. W. J. Brown and daughter, Mary Brown, of Salt Lake City; Frank Carlton and wife of San Pedro; Miss Ada E. Stephens of Moline, Illinois; Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Davey of Detroit, Michigan.

Benton Colber, a noted food specialist of Battle Creek, Michigan, has been a visitor this week at the Glendale Sanitarium.

Dr. A. W. Teel is conducting a special class for instruction in the eye, ear, nose and throat in connection with the nurses' training course at the sanitarium this month.

Mrs. Daisy D. Harris, superintendent of nurses at the Glendale Sanitarium, who suffered the dislocation of a knee when she slipped on a polished floor a week ago, is now able to discharge her duties and get around without crutches.

Hospital authorities state that Miss Naomi Hall of Los Angeles, who was injured in an automobile accident and brought to the hospital Monday afternoon, is improving, but it will be some time before she can walk on account of the severe gashes in her knees.

An eight-pound boy was born to Mrs. Helen Hardie of this city at the sanitarium Tuesday morning. The first baby to occupy the nursery was Juanita Fay Love, who arrived Sunday night, following the formal opening of the hospital.

Mrs. Lovern, wife of Dr. Lovern of Santa Barbara, who came south to attend the meeting of the Battle Creek Society in Los Angeles, spent Sunday at the Glendale Sanitarium.

J. A. FOLEY AT TEMPLE TOMORROW EVENING

James A. Foley, poet, humorist and philosopher, a frequent contributor to Life, Collier's, the Century and the Youth's Companion, who has spoken before some of the largest women's organizations in the state and is also a Lyceum platform speaker of note, will give an evening of his poems tomorrow evening at the Masonic Temple, under the auspices of the Tuesday Afternoon Club.

Mr. Foley does not recite, he talks; and his conversation drifts into verse so smoothly his listeners scarce detect the transition. Those who have heard him, say his readings, if they may be called readings, are inimitable and altogether charming.

VISITS TO MANUAL ARTS DEPARTMENTS

Messrs. George O. Lockwood, Arthur Oliver, Morgan M. Smith and Mr. Wright of the mechanical arts department of the high school, visited Alhambra, Fullerton and Pasadena Tuesday to inspect the manual arts departments of the high schools in those cities. They found particularly interesting work being done at Fullerton, which, on account of the oil interests of that section, is a rich district with an abundance of money for school purposes. The department they visited there they found splendidly equipped.

At Whittier they found a fine department, but handicapped, as is Glendale, for lack of room. Pasadena they found in much the same situation where they are figuring on a new building for the manual arts department. On the whole, they came home pretty well pleased with the Glendale department and the work it is doing for the boys and girls of our city.

JOHN COTTON, ARTIST, LECTURER TO TALK

John Cotton, the artist, of 1137 San Rafael street, is to give an talk on etchings next week before the Ruskin Art Club of Los Angeles. This afternoon he is speaking at the museum at Exposition Park in connection with the international exhibit of prints there. A big oil decoration which he has just made for a Los Angeles home is now on exhibition in Glendale at the city library on Harvard street and should be viewed by all who visit the library. It will be there for a few days only.

ELKS' DANCE

Elks and their ladies are to enjoy a dance at the Elks' Club house Saturday night. It will be a St. Patrick's affair. The Herbert Henning orchestra will provide the music and a good committee will carry out an unique plan of decoration and entertainment. The committee includes J. F. Hearnshaw, W. W. Worley, Joe Bellew, and Emil Kiefer.

SHAKESPEAREAN SCHOLAR AND ACTOR

Wednesday, at an 11 o'clock assembly, students of Glendale high had a treat in an address by Garnet Holme, the well-known Shakespearean authority and actor. While his talk was a serious plea for a sufficient study of the work of William Shakespeare for them to become ensnared with his wit and wisdom, his great psychological insight, his philosophy and nonsense. He also entertained the boys and girls with accounts of his own experiences as a youthful strolling player of Shakespearean parts. He begged them, for example, to consider Dogberry, whose office would correspond with that of Constable of the present day, and observe the perfect delineation of his donkey conceit in contrast with such a mystic as Prospero. Again he set over against each other for analysis by the student the delineation of Hamlet, morbid, mournful, undecided, and Falstaff, the huge fool. He directed attention to Lady Macbeth urging her husband to murder, and advised the young people if they craved murder scenes to go to William Shakespeare, where they would get the wonderful psychology of the crime, something more than the gruesome, sordid details.

THEY SING SONGS AS FINGERS FLY

Nineteen members of the Nimble Fingers Club were the guests of Mrs. E. S. McKee, 130 West Chestnut street, last evening.

Mindful of the fact that they who sing at their work do more in the same time, do it better, and persevere longer, the ladies sang all the old favorite songs and some of the new ones (Miss Dorothy Danner accompanying them on the piano) while they knotted a comfort.

Plans were made for the social to follow the next regular meeting of Mary Jane Gillette Tent next Tuesday evening. Dancing, cards, good music and "hot dogs" will be featured at this social session, which will begin after the business meeting, about 9:30.

Misses Mildred McKee and Marjorie Gunyon were assistant hostesses at last evening's meeting, at whose close a refreshing collation was served.

ALUMNI DAY PLANS FOR G. U. H. S.

Ed Seay, president of the Alumni Association of Glendale high school, mortified because in his absence last June the alumni were not represented as they should have been in the commencement festivities, has begun in time this year. He is starting a movement to set apart one day of commencement week as alumni day and has named June 3 as the day this year. The program has not been worked out in detail, but it will include competitive events, such as a baseball game between a students' team and an alumni team, a tennis match and a baby show. The third showing of the exhibit of the art department, under Miss Mueller, will be made on alumni day. There will likewise be an assembly, with a musical program and speeches by some of the older graduates, who will voice thier feeling for the school and tell how the school has affected their work. A supper will bring the graduates together for an old-time rally and will be followed by an informal dance in the gymnasium, for which no charge will be made and at which the guest list will be limited to members of the alumni, their ladies and seniors of the high school.

Mr. Seay thinks the graduates need to keep in touch with the school and that the school needs the inspiration that the alumni can bring to it.

GUN BATTLE WITH ARMED BANDITS

(By International News Service)

IOLA, Kansas, March 16.—The state bank of Uniontown, Kansas, 30 miles east of here, was looted of thousands of dollars today by armed bandits. Townspeople, aroused, engaged in a gun battle with the bandits, two of whom calmly continued looting the bank while their confederates stood off the citizens. The gang then escaped in a motor car.

J. F. STANFORD BUILDS AND SELLS HOMES

J. F. Stanford, 112 1-2 South Brand boulevard, builds and sells homes, for this reason his opinion on present conditions in Glendale carries weight.

"This is a good time to build," says Mr. Stanford. "In my opinion, building materials are as low as they are going to be; moreover, materials are to be had without waiting, just now; with the great activity in building here at present, this may not be the case two months hence.

"Glendale has waked up, and we need more houses to accommodate the great numbers of new people coming in. We need houses to sell and houses to rent. Anyone who wishes to help the town and who owns vacant lots, should build, either to rent or sell. Building to rent is good business sense, for houses can be built on almost rent terms and the rentals will about make the payments.

"This will be the biggest year in building Glendale has ever had," emphatically avers Mr. Stanford, who has built and sold 200 houses in Glendale in the last two years.

In this connection, William McMillan of the Stanford office reports the sale of 20 acres at Sixth and Vine streets to W. L. Truitt, who will cut the tract into homesites and build homes there.

ENVIES SISTER OF THE CURLY LOCKS

Every woman whose hair is "straight as an Indian's," envies her sister of the curly locks. But she need not be consumed with envy any longer.

By means of the new 1921 Nestle permanent hair-waving machine just installed in the Walcott Beauty Shop, 136 South Brand boulevard, her longing for fluffy, wavy hair may now be satisfied. The curls are steamed, not baked; the operation is not unpleasant and tedious as was the case with old hair-waving machines, that took hours and hours of one's time; the curls are in the new Nestle machine only 20 minutes. There is a special device that makes it impossible to burn the head, and another that keeps the hair from being pulled, thus causing discomfort while having the hair curled.

After having the hair waved by Mrs. Walcott's new machine, you can use any sort of hair tonic and even indulge in surf bathing without fear of scraggly, unsightly locks; in fact, the more you wet them, the curlier they get. The wave will last six months, at least, and in some cases it lasts over a year.

Mrs. Walcott now has seven booths and five operators. Her business is growing so that she is crowded for more room. The demand for Criff-Laray cosmetics, made from her own scientific formulas, exceeds the supply. She expects shortly to begin manufacturing them for the wholesale trade.

A new Ruud automatic heater and a new awning over the front of the cozy, sanitary establishment, are recent improvements.

$8000 WORTH OF WHISKY CAPTURED

(By International News Service)

DENVER, Colo., March 17.—Two large touring cars containing $8000 worth of bonded whiskey were captured by the police here early today. Four men in the cars were arrested charged with "booze running." Police believe that the contraband was brought in from Canada across the Montana boundary line for use in an exclusive Denver social club.

CONVERSAZIONE AT MRS. FARRELL'S

Mrs. J. O'Neill Farrell, entertained ladies of the Church of the Holy Family and their friends, yesterday with a silver tea, at her home, 1831 South Gardena, from 1:30 to 5:30.

Fancywork and congenial conversation were the chief pastimes of the afternoon. There was a large attendance, light refreshments were served, and the silver offering amounted to $21. Assistant hostesses were Mesdames Michael Finn, Catherine Farrell, Alex Morrison and William Smith.

Next week being Holy Week, the ladies will refrain from even such quiet social activities as teas, until after Easter.

WOMAN SEARCHES FOR MISSING LINK

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—If the missing link is found it will be photographed by a woman.

Mrs. Roy Chapman Andrews will be the official photographer of one of the most extensive and ambitious scientific expeditions ever formed for the search of the missing link. With her husband, who is directing the formation of the expedition for the American Museum of Natural History, Mrs. Andrews will sail from here shortly for the Orient.

Mongolia, the cradle of the human race, will be the scene of the search.

I. N. Spafford is homesick. He moved to Los Angeles a few weeks ago. Now he is in Glendale looking for a place so he can move back t oour city.

VISION OF INDIANA EDITOR NETS $50,000

(By International News Service)

LAPORTE, Ind., March 16.—Victor H. Kirk, city editor of the Laporte Argus, is today preparing to retire from the newspaper business, following the receipt of an offer of $50,000 for two lots which he purchased many years ago near the present site of the city of Tulsa, Okla. Kirk had concluded several times to let the lots go at a tax sale, but never relinquished his ownership. He purchased the property for a few dollars.

SEES EMPLOYER KISS HIS WIFE

(By International News Service)

WAUKEGAN, Ill., March 16.—Just because he happened to see his employer kissing his wife was no reason why Raymond Clark of Grays Lake should lose any sleep. Clark testified at the trial of his $50,000 alienation suit against Wilmer Brewer, wealthy bachelor farmer, that he tiptoed to the head of the stairs and saw Brewer kissing Mrs. Clark. Clark said he went quietly back to bed and was asleep in two minutes.

WEARING SMILES OF SATISFACTION

Old residents of Glendale in all parts of the city are wearing smiles of satisfaction these days, "pointing with pride" at the new structures that are changing the landscape, some of them business blocks but more of them home for the people coming to California from the north, the south, the east, the west, to whom Glendale looks good. These new residents are the best kind of material with which to build a town because they feel bound to justify their choice of a residence town and are naturally inclined to be boosters. Also they have all kinds of linkings with friends elsewhere whom they are anxious to attract to Glendale and so little colonies spring up of Iowans, or Tennesseeans or Pennsylvanians. They renew our faith and keep us on tiptoe to meet their enthusiasm.

SECURITIES SALE INCREASE

Treasury department reports to the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco show a total of $3,143,150 worth of treasury savings securities, such as 25-cent thrift stamps, $1 treasury savings stamps, $5 war savings stamps and treasury savings certificates in denominations of $25, $100 and $1000, sold during February. This total represents considerable increase over the sale of these securities through postoffices and banks during January and is in excess of the amount sold in June, 1920.

Reports from all parts of the United States to the treasury department indicate that the public is turning with favor to these small, guaranteed securities of the government. The telegram from Washington announcing February sales said that the treasury expected to sell $3,553,000 of the securities during March.

STATE INDUSTRIAL FARM FOR WOMEN

A great reduction in the number of inmates in state asylums and a tremendous saving to the state will follow the successful operation of the State Industrial Farm for Women, according to a survey completed by Miss Blanche Morse, well-known Berkeley social worker and a trustee of the institution.

Copies of the survey were sent to women's clubs in the state today from Fresno campaign headquarters.

According to Miss Morse's figures, feeble-mindedness and insanity in this state, as evidenced in the cases of public charges investigated in the survey, are caused by two things, inebrity and social diseases. The survey states that social diseases are the big problem and their control will be established with the operation of the industrial farm established by the legislature in 1919.

The campaign for the farm is being carried on to secure sufficient funds to go ahead with the work in hand. With an investment of $150,000 on the part of the state, engineers value the site alone at that price. In addition to the site, the trustees now have farm and household equipment, a complete sanitation project, have repaired a house on the site which is now practically a small institution with the exception of a hospital. The urgencies are the construction of the complete water system and a permanent hospital.

The farm is located in Sonoma, two miles from town, and is in the foothills. It is characterized by light, easy workable soil, and has 400 acres of forested hills protecting the watershed. According to Professor J. W. Gregg of the University of California, the Sonoma site is ideal for the purpose and the soil perfectly constituted for the variety of work that will characterize the course proposed in the work of rehabilitating delinquent women.

LITTLE BENNY'S NOTEBOOK

BY LEE PAPE

Me and Mary Watkins had a argewment almost ending in a fite yestidday aftirnoon, being more her fault than wat it was mine on account of her not knowing how to argew, and she went in her house mad and I went erround to my cuzzin Arties, saying, Hay Artie, you know that box of candy you got on your birthday, well will you loan it to me if I promise not to eat more than 2 peeces? Me and Mary Watkins dont speek and I wunt to take it and eat peeces out of it in frunt of her house jest to show her she aint so mutch. Will you Artie? Wich he sed he would, and I took the box of candy eround to Mary Watkinses house, Artie coming with me and standing in back of the telegraff pole up the street to see I dident take eny more than 2 peeces according to the contrack, and Mary Watkins was setting in her parler window looking proud and I stood rite outside and took the lid off the box and took a big choclit out and started to eat it slow with a ixpression as if there was plenty more ware that came frum, and she stopped looking proud and started to look as if it wouldent of took mutch more to make her smile.

Me thinking G, the revendge is werking. And I took the next biggest peece and started to eat it even slower on account of it being the last one according to the contrack, and Mary Watkins opened the window as if she thawt she needed more air to breethe rite, me thinking, Gosh, she'll set there all week if she waits for me to give her a hunk of candy.

Wich I could tell by her ixpression it was jest wat she was waiting for, and I put the lid back on the box and wawked away, thinking, Herray, revendge. And Artie came out frum in back of the telegraff pole and took the box, and jest then Mary Watkins came out on her frunt steps and wat did Artie do but go rite down and take the lid off and tawk to her wile her and him ate all the peeces they wunted to, me keeping on wawking away thinking, Darn him, the darn strike breaker.

Proving you cant allways tell about revendges.

GOLDEN WEDDING OF MR. AND MRS. EBENEZER CULVER

"Grow old along with me,
The best is yet to be;
The last, for which the first was made," sang Robert Browning to his wife.

So might have sung Ebenezer Culver, likewise, to his bride, Alice Elvira Thompson, as they rode together the five miles through the country back in Iowa on March 15, 1871, to the home of the minister who was to marry them. 'Tis not likely, however, that Mr. Culver had a thought like this in his mind; for, in the first place he was too young to think about growing old—as a matter of fact, even on March 15, 1921, his golden wedding day, Mr. Culver said he was still too young to think of growing old; in the second place, on that March day, 50 years ago, the mud in the roads back in his central Iowa home was so deep that his mind was pretty much taken up with keeping his spanking team in the road and the red wheels of his new spring wagon out of the still half-frozen ruts.

The Contrast

Whatever the thoughts of the young man may have been on that early spring day back in 1871, his bonny bride did grow old along with him; and it so happened too, that "the best was yet to be," for yesterday, March 15, 1921, Mr. Culver and his bride, still bonny, celebrated together their golden wedding day—not back in the "frozen east," but in their pretty California home; 327 North Isabel street, Glendale.

As in all human lives, sunshine and shadow had alternated in the years that intervened between their wedding day and its 50th anniversary; God has blessed them with the experiences of pain and sorrow and loss as well as those of joy and prosperity. Five children were born to them; one has passed to his eternal home; an only daughter and three sons have homes of their own now, back in the old home state.

Friends Share Joy

Friends to the number of 100 or more came Tuesday evening to rejoice with Mr. and Mrs. Culver and to congratulate them on their long life together. At eight o'clock, the first strains of the beautiful Lohengrin wedding march hushed the happy chat of the assembled guests, and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, preceded by Elder Neff, their pastor, entered the parlor and stood beneath a large golden wedding bell, wreathed with smilax, which hung in front of the fireplace. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of changeable silk, dove color shading to rose, with white lace at the throat. She wore orange blossoms in her hair, and carried a shower bouquet of sweet peas that harmonized so perfectly with her gown it seemed as if Dame Nature must have grown them purposely for the occasion. The groom was attired in the conventional black.

Elder Neff made a beautiful speech in which he referred to the sacredness of the institution of marriage, founded beyond the gates of Paradise by the Lord Himself. Society, he said, rests on our recognition of the sacredness of this relation. This fortunate couple might tonight turn the clock back 50 years, and see in retrospect a long life of companionship, in which they shared each other's burden, each other's joys and each other's sorrows. He ended with prayer for Mr. and Mrs. Culver and for all present as well.

The ceremony was followed by the singing of one of Mrs. Culver's favorite hymns, "Jesus, My Redeemer," in which all the guests joined.

Beautiful Program

The rest of the program follows: Solo, "Faith and Hope," by E. A. McDonald; Daily Promises, Elder J. O. Corliss; Piano solo, Mrs. W. J. Johnson; Solo, "I've Grown So Used to You," Elder I. A. Ford; Piano duet, Mrs. W. J. Johnson and Miss Hollingsworth; Solo, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," C. H. Jones' original poem commemorative of the occasion, Mrs. J. Moser; Solo, "Dream of Paradise," Dr. C. A. Brandstater; Piano duet, Mrs. Johnson and Miss Hollingsworth; Solo, "Every Man is a King of Dreams, E. A. McDonald; original poem, Mrs. Paul Mason; "Rock of Ages," sung by the guests.

This enjoyable feature of the evening was followed by one not contemplated by Mr. and Mrs. Culver when they arranged their celebration. Elder Ford, on behalf of the friends of the celebrants, presented them with a handsome library table and a beautiful reading lamp.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Culver responded with words of thanks for this mark of the affection and esteem in which they are held by their friends. Felicitations were then extended Mr. and Mrs. Culver by the guests, and during the social hour refreshments of punch and cake were served. Many other remembrances were received by the happy couple.

It was not possible to get a complete list of the guests, among whom were Elders E. L. Neff, J. O. Corliss, J. W. Christian, G. W. Reaser, F. W. Paap, R. W. Munson, S. Thurston, I. A. Ford, F. H. Westphal, Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Westphal, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Burrows, Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Brandstater, Dr. H. R. Harrower, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McDonald, Clarence E. Kimlin, G. S. Smith, J. M. Prime, Paul C. Mason, C. B. Fowler, H. J. Eggers; Mmes. G. W. Reaser, H. M. Cleveland, W. J. Martin, J. W. Christian, Sylvia Wheeler, Gertrude Jones, J. F. Moser, Isabel Smith, E. M. Shafer, L. S. Hill, A. Belle Johnson, I. A. Ford, J. O. Corliss, F. W. Paap, S. Thurston, R. W. Munson, S. N. Kane, Nellie Simpson, M. M. Wallar, S. A. Cook, J. W. Hiatt, A. P. Haskell, Lela Graham, Jessie Wanderlich, Tillie W Messrs. F. M. Riley, Clarence H Jones, James Howarth, Max Hill, Percy Christian.

Their Philosophy of Life

Mr. and Mrs. Culver have lived in Glendale three years. They lived in Iowa 50 years, and also lived in Missouri for a time. Both are remarkably well preserved, are in possession of all their faculties—sight, hearing, memory perfect—and both look much younger than their years. They are the only couple living of all their former associates in the old home; in fact, only three others of their old neighbors in Iowa who began life at the same time are still living.

Mr. Culver attributes his long life as well as his prosperity to living in harmony with God's laws. He says eating too much shortens life; he never drank or chewed tobacco; he considers money only a means to an end, to be used in the service of his fellowman; he keeps in touch with everything going on in the world; he reads much, and can read the finest print without glasses; he likes young people and says association with them and sympathy with their outlook on life keeps one young; he says he never thinks of growing old; he gardens, exercises and walks much.

Believes in Glendale

He is enthusiastic about the growth of Glendale, and says the Daily Press, to which he is a subscriber, got into the game at just the right time, for in his opinion Glendale will ere long be a city of 50,000. He has traveled all over the United States, and says Glendale is, par excellence, the best home place of all.

Studies Music at Seventy

Mrs. Culver is a woman of charming personality. "Do come to our golden wedding," she urged a Daily Press reporter, cordially, "I don't know myself what 'twill be like; you see, I never had one before." She is in her 72nd year; her husband is 82. At the age of 70 she began the study of music, and today plays more creditably than many much younger but less earnest students after two years of study. "I always wanted to study music, but never had the time before," she says, quite as if it was a most usual thing to take up such a study after reaching three score and ten.

E. B. ELIAS CHOOSES HORN OF DILEMMA

E. B. Elias was confronted with the horn of a dilemma at the Elks' lodge last Monday night and had to do some rapid thinking. He came out of the predicament better than he feared he would do. He had been engaged to take a picture of the incoming officers and just as the light was to be flashed, the camera slipped on the polished floor and started to fall. If he reached forward to save the camera and a $217 lens, there would be, he knew, a premature explosion of the flash powder which might blind some of the people in front of him. He let the camera slide and fortunately the lens came through uninjured, though some of the mechanism of the camera was damaged. He managed to repair it sufficiently however, to take the picture, which has proved to be a good one.

J. W. GILLETTE AFTER FEDERAL JUDGESHIP

(By International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, March 17.—James N. Gillette, former governor of California is en route to Washington, D. C., in search of an appointment as federal judge of the northern district. This became known today when friends of Gillette admitted seeing and talking with him on the subject when he passed through Sacramento on Thursday of last week.

Gillette is out for the same post upon which Superior Judge Thomas F. Graham, Supreme Justice Thomas Lennon and Appellate Judge Frank Kerringan have their eyes glued. But in making a personal journey to the capital Gillette probably feels he is stealing a march on his rivals.

NEW EPOCH DAWNS FOR TROPICO POTTERIES

The solitary lion that guards the entrance to the works of what is now "The Tropico Potteries," a memorial of a former epoch in the history of the plant, may witness a revival of the ceramic process that called him into being. The industry is being reorganized with increased capital and under new management, after having been known as the Pacific Tile Works and then as the Pacific Minerals and Chemical Company, and new ventures along art lines are planned.

The world war discouraged building and development work except such as was absolutely necessary, made hard conditions for this factory, which ceased entirely its manufacture of architectural tile and cut down its output of vitrified sewer pipe. But the end of the war and revival of building changed all that. An immense demand sprang up for pipe and for tile and in recent months the most beautiful building products to be had in this part of the country were turned out by the Tropico Potteries which have seen fit to appropriate the old name for the southern section of our city.

The factory has been working so quietly that it will be new to many of our citizens to learn that the tile used on the handsome Ambassador Hotel came from here as did also that employed in the construction of the newest business blocks of the downtown district of Los Angeles which are conspicuous for their beauty.

F. B. Oltman, general manager of the Northwestern Terra Cotta Company of Chicago and an expert ceramic engineer, has been secured as business manager and took up his duties about a week ago. Under his guidance and inspiration the output of the potteries will be increased along the present lines and new ones will be added, especially in the art tiles.

There is plenty of room for development as the company owns 37 acres of which but five are under roof. It also owns a large acreage in clay beds at Elsinore and in Temescal canyon, besides talcum deposits in Nevada, the grinding of which is another branch of the business carried on independently of pottery work.

Mr. Oltman is pleased with the excellent physical condition of the plant in which he will make such changes as will be required to thoroughly modernize it and increase its efficiency. Twenty-one kilns are already in operation and a Kirk continuous tunnel kiln will probably be added together with a humidity dryer.

The splendid product that is being turned out is becoming widely known among architects and builders and the market is extending its boundaries, recent orders including materials for a building at the University of Arizona at Tucson and for a bank at El Paso. In view of the tremendous impetus to building in Southern California and the almost limitless demand for pipe and tile, the outlook for this industry looks bright.

Development plans include dormitories and apartment houses to shelter men employed and their families, and a new office building. About 70 workmen are in the pay of the company at the present time. B. M. Wotkyns is president of the corporation with offices in the Security Building, Los Angeles. E. M. Davis is the secretary-treasurer, and Fred B. Oltman, whose offices are at the plant, is vice-president and general manager.

NATIONAL RAILWAY STRIKE IS SETTLED

(By International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 17.—The National railway strike has been settled, it was officially announced today. The conditions were not revealed. The final negotiations which led to the settlement were conducted for many hours last night by General B. Elias Calles, secretary of the interior, and representatives of the workers.

REV. H. C. SHOEMAKER IS BURIED TODAY

Rev. H. C. Shoemaker, well-known in Glendale and throughout this section of the state, passed away in a San Francisco hospital Tuesday.

The body will be brought to Glendale today, and the funeral will take place at Forest Lawn cemetery on Saturday at two o'clock.

About 10 years back, Mr. Shoemaker was pastor of the Tropico Presbyterian church for two years. He was well known to the older residents of Glendale. He had also been pastor of Knox church, Los Angeles, and Cypress Park church, of that city, was built while he was pastor of its congregation.

Mrs. Shoemaker will accompany her husband's body back to its last resting place here.

Miss Clara McClellan of Lodi, Calif., is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ebenezer Culver of 327 North Isabel street, arriving in time for their golden wedding celebration on last Tuesday evening.

FLOWER BLOCK ON BROADWAY

Building to Contain Three Stores to Go Up Near Everett Street

Mr. Flower, who built the Flower block on Brand boulevard and sold it advantageously about a year and a half ago, afterwards conducting quite a campaign of building and selling residences in this city, is in about the situation of a district school teacher who is "boarding around." His wife has a weak heart and though she loves Glendale, found she could enjoy excellent health at Santa Monica and was miserable here. So Mr. Folwer ruled that she and her family must live at the beach and he would be with them there as much as he consistently could and look after his business interests here. He has disposed of all the residences he erected here and is now building a home for his son at Santa Monica, where he expects to erect a nice home for himself and family to take the place of the house they are now occupying.

He says he is still interested in the development of the east side of our city and is planning to put up three stores on Broadway in the neighborhood of Everett street. He is enthusiastic about the advantages of that part of town from a residence standpoint, and says the building now going on there justifies his opinion. To provide stores to supply the needs of these new residents is his aim in building the business block mentioned.

CONCRETE WORK ABOUT FINISHED

Steel for New P. E. Bridge Over Wash Expected Next Week; Early Completion

All the concrete work on the new Pacific Electric bridge over the wash is now completed. There are two abutments reaching to those of the highway bridges on either side, thus making a solid wall of concrete on each side of the wash extending entirely across Brand boulevard. J. F. Quinn, construction foreman, who is a Glendale man, living at 432 Orden, will remove the derrick, engine and concrete mixer this week and clear up the east highway bridge so it can be opened for travel again. Then he goes to a couple of small jobs in or near Los Angeles, after which he will put in piers and abutments for a long two-track bridge over the new channel of the Los Angeles river about five miles north of Long Beach, the flood control work there making this necessary. The bridge will be of steel.

Mr. Quinn says the steel for the Glendale bridge is expected to arrive next week and if it does traffic will be crossing the new structure early in April.

Bicycle Stolen

C. J. Tuttle, 617 Vine street, reports that his little girl's bicycle was stolen from the porch last night.

MANY NEW HOMES IN GLENDALE

C. O. Amberson has bought, through the Edwards & Wildey company, a fine lot on Isabel street, upon which he will erect a five or six room hous . The dwelling will cost $8000 to $9000 and will be a complete, well-built home.

This section of Glendale is rapidly building up with homes of the better type, homes that are a credit to the city:

The same firm has sold to Mr. Purviance a lot on Jackson street. The new owner already has the foundation in for a five-room Colonial bungalow, which the Edwards & Wildey company is building for him.

Bertha M. Newcomb has bought, through the Edwards & Wildey company, the 60-foot lot at the northwest corner of Isabel and Doran street. Miss Newcomb will improve this fine building site within the year.

Building Notes

Bert Cline, the well-known contractor, is building a five-room bungalow at 437 Ivy street for H. L. Segar. It is to cost $2925.

D. E. Johnston has taken out a permit for a four-room residence and a garage at 327 Mira Loma, to cost $2000.

The permit for Harry Whites three-room garage residence at 600 North Jackson was taken out yesterday and work is being pushed rapidly. It is to cost $1000.

Another little store for Glendale is that being erected by L. Gatto, at 1400 East Colorado, a one-room business building.

Building Outlook Good

The Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber company reports brisk business in building materials and predict a tremendous building era for Glendale. They say inquiries for lumber and cost of materials are coming in so fast the office force is taxed to the utmost to attend to them all.

Frank Andrews and mother of 507 West Vine street visited J. E. Hall and family at Lilac Terrace, East Los Angeles, Tuesday and enjoyed a dinner. Mrs. Hall is a niece of Mrs. Andrews.

LITERARY SECTION APPRECIATED TALK

The Literary Section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club was favored with a much appreciated talk by Miss Vermilgea, well-known public speaker of New York, at their meeting held at the home of the curator, 208 South Orange street, last Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Vermilgea's topic was current events, and she touched upon matters before the United States congress and the California legislature and the effects of the woman's vote, for and against measures.

A review of Stoddard's "The Rising Tide of Color Against White World Supremacy," was ably handled by Mrs. E. Hollingsworth. The study of Ireland was concluded, Mrs. Stanley presenting the topic, "Buildings and Noted Estates of Ireland"; Mrs. Annie Williams, "Cities and Their Environments"; Mrs. Baker, "Well-Known Irish Statesman." There was a banner attendance, 28 members enjoying the profitable program.

At the next meeting, on Tuesday, April 5, Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward will review Hugh Walpole's "The Duchess of Wrex," and the members of the section will begin the study of Mexico.

DESERVES PLACE IN HISTORY

Cecrops, Illustrious Egyptian, Made Country an Asylum for the Innocent and Persecuted.

With the dawn of Attic civilization in ancient Greece, Cecrops, an Egyptian, built a town on the site where later the citadel of Athens rose in magnificence. He introduced morals and judicial regulations, and the country under his rule became an asylum for the innocent and persecuted. From that time on festivals, compacts and laws extended their beneficial influence. About 130 years after him the Phoenician Cadmus brought the use of letters into Boeotia; and at Thebes in the same country, he erected a citadel. The greatest lyric poet and the greatest general of the Greeks were Boeotians, but nevertheless this people was accused of stupidity. While their value was not appreciated, their discoveries were brought to perfection by others and more usefully applied.

It is remarkable that Cadmus, the father of learning, who taught us to hand down our thoughts to futurity, came into Greece just at a time when Joshua, the leader of the Jews, drove the Phoenecian tribes toward the sea and compelled them to seek refuge in distant colonies. This act of a despised people, scarcely known to Greek historians, was the occasional cause of all the intellectual and moral excellence which has arisen through the influence of literature.

ON THE WINGS OF THE WIND

Nothing So Small That the Zephyrs Shall Not Find It and Spread It Beneficially.

Acres of perfume come on the wind from the black and white of the beanfield; the firs fill the air by the copse with perfume. I know nothing to which the wind has not some happy use. Is there a grain of dust so small the wind shall not find it out? Ground in the mill-wheel of the centuries, the iron of the distant mountain floats like gossamer, and is drunk up as dew. * * * A thousand miles of cloud go by from morn till night, passing overhead without a sound; the immense packs, a mile square, succeed to each other, side by side, laid parallel, book shape, coming up from the horizon and widening as they approach. From morn till night the silent footfalls of the ponderous vapors travel overhead, no sound, no creaking of the wheels and rattling of the chains; it is calm at the earth, but the wind labors without an effort above, with such ease, with such power. Gray smoke hangs on the hillside where the couch-heaps are piled, a cumulus of smoke; the wind comes, and it draws its length along like the genii from the earthen pot; there leaps up a red flame shaking its head; it shines in the bright sunlight; you can see it across the valley.—Richard Jefferies.

Magnet Has Many Uses.

A highly important use of a magnet is that in which it is sometimes employed to withdraw small pieces of iron from such out of the way places as the human eye. Another use of the tractive force of magnetism on a much larger scale was that to which it was put by Edison in his magnetic ore separator, in which the ore, previously crushed to a fine powder, is dropped down a chute past the poles of powerful electro-magnets, in passing which the iron particles of the ore are deflected to one side, while the non-magnetic stone dust continues undeflected down the chute. Still another instance of the employment of magnetism in a small way is that in which a magnetized tack hammer is used in the manufacture of strawberry baskets on a large scale in conjunction with a mechanical device which presents the tacks, one at a time and head up, to the operative, thereby greatly facilitating his work.

A Psychologist's Morning After.

I had two days spoiled by a psychological experiment with mescal, an intoxicant used by some of our southwestern Indians in their religious ceremonies—a sort of cactus bud of which the United States government had distributed a supply to certain medical men, including Weir Mitchell, who sent me some to try. He had himself been "in fairyland." It gives the most glorious visions of color—every object thought of appears in a jeweled splendor unknown to the natural world. It disturbs the stomach somewhat, but that, according to W. M., was a cheap price. I took one bud three days ago, was violently sick for twenty-four hours, and had no other symptom whatever except that and the katzenjammer the following day.—From Letter of William James, Atlantic Monthly.

Aluminum Brass.

Experiments aimed at developing the resistance of brass to the action of sea water, with a view to its employment for constructing submarines in France, have, it is reported, shown some remarkable results from the addition of aluminum. The internal structure of the alloy is strikingly changed by a very small percentage of aluminum and the color changes are surprising.

From half of 1 per cent up to 5 per cent of aluminum gives the brass a deep golden color. If the quantity of aluminum is increased beyond 5 per cent a superb rose color results, which reaches its maximum when the aluminum amounts to 7 per cent. With 10 per cent of aluminum the color turns to a silvery white.

CANDIDATES ADDRESS P.-T. A.

Union High School Election Discussed at Length in Talks

Mrs. H. W. Yarick, the president, in introducing the candidates made a statement to the effect that the Parent-Teacher's Association, do not endorse candidates, but because of the high school election being so closely allied with high school activity that she felt that the members should have an opportunity of hearing those who were candidates for the office of high school trustee.

The candidates were chosen to speak on a basis of alphabetical order—and each one spoke briefly on their different platforms.

Four of the speakers were candidates for high school trusteeships. Dr. H. V. Brown made the opening address, brief and informal, in which he said he had no preconceived notions of what he expected to do on the board if elected; that he expected to be guided by the voice of the people as near as he could sense it.

Capt. Thomas D. Watson, the last to speak of the candidate quartet, said that he, like Dr. Brown, had not sought the office which, at best, was a trying position, but had yielded to the solicitations of his friends because he had always felt the business man should take an interest in the civic affairs of his community.

Charles L. Chandler, who said he voiced the sentiments of his fellow candidate William R. Phelon, deprecated any tendency towards factionalism in school affairs.

The last speaker was Mrs. Kemper Campbell who made a vigorous, stirring protest against the juvenile court law as it operates at the present time, saying that because of its injustice to children and parents she had felt compelled to enter the fight for its amendment and was reluctantly "peddling" out the care of her two beautiful babies among her neighbors that she might be free to go from gathering to gathering and tell what she knows and the reasons why the law should be amended.

Richardson D. White made a plea for the carrying of the proposed bond issue to provide a civic center or as he preferred to call it "Recreation center," which will make a club house for the youth of the city and place of amusement under proper supervision and also make use of the athletic fields of the high and grade schools.

MADRIGAL CLUB TO GIVE MUSICAL

A treat is in store for those who attend the evening of Irish songs this evening by the Glendale Madrigal Club under the direction of Mrs. C. J. Parker, at the Pearl Keller studio auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard.

All music lovers will endorse the above pronouncement, for all music lovers of Glendale know the finished, musicianly work of the Glendale Madrigal Club; and all music lovers, needless to say, know the haunting, lilting lyric beauty of the Irish melodies. No more complete combination for "the makins" of a delightful musical evening could be conceived. Mrs. John A. Wright is the accompanist.

The program follows:

Medley, Irish Airs, Madrigal Club.

Irish Love Song (Lang), Madrigal Club.

Pianologue, "Foolish Questions," (Gould Moore); "Kathleen Mavourneen," (Rhys-Herbert), Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Puffer, Mrs. Draper, Mrs. Cotton.

Irish Lullaby (Needham), Mrs. Parker.

PRIVATE BUFFALO RANCH A SUCCESS

(By International News Service)

STAMFORD, Tex., March 17.—To again witness picturesque buffalo browsing over Texas plains is the hope of R. V. Colvert, whose ranch is 20 miles east of here.

A wolf and hunter-proof wire fence, strung from iron posts imbedded in cement foundations, therefore, has been built around Colbert's 12,000-acre river ranch, where almost depleted buffalo herds are being restocked.

"Very seldom," declares Colbert, "do I sell one of my buffs and then only with the explicit understanding that they won't be killed."

Colonel Roosevelt Jr. told the Pittsburgh newspaper men Friday night tht they should enlighten the people by printing facts. How funny these politicians are at times; when he knows how hard these poor fellows struggle to avoid facts. Their jobs depend on it.—Vandergrift (Pa.) News.

POET-HUMORIST

Masonic Temple, Friday, March 18, at 8 P. M.

Benefit for Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse Fund

Come to the Masonic Temple tomorrow, Friday, March 18, evening at 8 o'clock. You will be entertained, and be helping a cause, for the betterment of Glendale—the building fund for a clubhouse for the women of the city.

Mr. Foley will entertain in his own inimitable manner, always the same, yet always new. Miss Smith, a Canadian musician, new among us, will render "Minuet a' l' Antique," by Paderewski, "Canzonetta," by Schuett, and "Waltz in D Flat," by Chopin.

FRIDAY EVENING, MARCH 18
Masonic Temple at 8 p. m.
Tickets 25c and 50c

SHOWER FOR MISS MARGARET LUSBY

Miss Margaret Lusby was again complimented Tuesday evening when she was guest of honor at a pretty social affair given by her aunt, Mrs. R. A. Salisbury of North Central avenue. The early part of the evening was devoted by the ladies present to the hemming of tea towels and dusters and the making of holders for the bride-to-be. Then guessing games were played and a delicious two-course luncheon was served to the guests seated at small tables featured with a green and white color scheme. The favors represented bogwood pipes tied with green ribbons with the exception of the bride's favor—a little green umbrella. Hand painted cards marked the places except that a little paper doll figure of a bride indicated the seat of the guest of honor.

After the tables had been cleared Miss Lusby was presented with a card which read:

"Margaret: If you will shake hands with your sister-in-law's mother-in-law, kiss your aunt's oldest daughter's sister, go twice around the table whistling "It's a Long, Long Trail," go out on the front porch, shut your eyes and hold out both hands, you can keep what is put into them."

When Miss Lusby brought in and opened the package she had received, it was found to contain 15 aprons of great beauty and variety.

Guests present were: Mrs. E. U. Emery and daughter Waunita, Mrs. A. M. Hunt and daughter Loie, Mrs. C. R. Lusby, Mrs. H. A. Wilson, Mrs. C. D. Lusby, Mrs. J. W. Feinstein, Mrs. D. B. Pingree and her mother, Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Ina Randolph, Miss Maud Salisbury, Mrs. Frank Parsons, and the honoree of the evening.

TWENTY GUESTS FROM LOS ANGELES

A delightful afternoon was provided Wednesday for about 20 guests from Los Angeles and Glendale by Mrs. Hunter of 1159 San Rafael street, who gave a musicale to which Madame Sprotte, the famous opera singer, contributed some charming numbers. The daughter of the hostess, Mrs. Trice, who is here from Omaha, and who has a fine soprano voice, also sang, and so did her brother, Mr. Padel, who has an excellent tenor voice. Miss Alice Gray of Los Angeles was accompanist and likewise played most appreciated piano solos.

A beautiful setting for the function had been provided in which roses were lavishly used, and the refreshment tables were a pleasure to view.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR PALM SUNDAY

A real treat is in store for the members and friends of the Glendale Presbyterian church when the following program will be rendered at the morning service.

Prelude, March Romaine.....Gounod
Organist, Miss Carolyn G. Bailey.
Quartet, "On the Way to Jerusalem .....Mauder
Soprano, Mrs. Helen Graham Cole; contralto, Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts; tenor, Orrin L. Padel; baritone, C. Cliffird Riggs.
Offertory solo, Andantino.....Gounod
Violin solo, "The Holy City.....Adams
Miss Esther Gleiss.
Baritone solo, "The Palms,".....
C. Clifford Riggs.
Postlude, "Reseda" .....Lichner

For those who are not able to attend the morning service a splendid program is planned for the evening which will begin at 7:15 with the Organ Recital by Miss Carolyn Bailey.

A, "Melody in F".....Rubinstein
B, "The Palm Branches".....Taure
C, "La Cinquantaine".....Gabriel Marie
Quartet, "Evening Hymn".....Marks
Tenor solo, "A Prayer".....Tosti
Thomas G. McDougall.
Quartet, "Rejoice Greatly".....Wolcott
Postlude, "March Joyeuse"....Bettman

Great musical services are being planned for the Easter Sunday services, when quartets, solos and a harp solo by Miss Marjorie Jean Bailey will be rendered. In the evening there will be a Cantata by the quartet "From Olivet to Calvary" and a solo "The Resurrection," by Shelly, sung by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts. The public is invited to all of these services.

OTTO'S AUTO SERVICE SAYS "YOUR MOVE"

"Otto's Auto Service" is the alliterative appellation of an express and transfer company at 103 West Broadway, whose ad appears in today's issue of the Glendale Daily Press.

If "it's your move," Otto's Auto Service emphatically avers in its ad that it "ought to move you;" and if their ideas on moving are as "peppy" as their notions on advertising, you'll be moved to gratitude toward them for their "sudden service, night or day," as well as for their skill in moving your piano and other choice highly polished pieces of furniture without scuff or scratch, mar or mutilation.

N. M. Knaus is building a modern four-room house on North Jackson street for Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Curl, who now reside at 344 Milford street.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW

W. O. Stevens of Ocean Park is the guest of his sister and brother, Miss Stevens and Dr. A. J. Stevens, of 735 East Wilson avenue.

R. C. Hamilton of San Diego is a guest in the home of Dr. A. J. Stevens, 735 East Wilson avenue.

Mrs. Kelan of Los Angeles is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. H. Weger, 332 Ethel street.

Mrs. O. N. Combs of Denver is the house guest of Mrs. A. A. Barton of 630 North Howard street. Mr. Combs will join her in the near future and they will be here for several weeks.

A. Woodside of East California, his wife and mother-in-law, are moving to Balboa, where they have a restaurant concession which they expect will become a very profitable business the coming season.

Mrs. Bert Mathiesen of Salt Lake City came yesterday to visit with the family of George Brewster for a few weeks. She and her husband, who is now manager of a big electric company in Salt Lake City, formerly lived in Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Van Rensselaer of Los Angeles, formerly of New York, are visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Walton at 320 West Myrtle street. Mr. Van Rensselaer is an expert construction engineer and is looking Glendale over with a view to making his future home here.

Miss Anna Philp of Elgin, Illinois, who is the house guest of Mrs. Volney Philp of 221 North Orange street for the winter, Mrs. G. H. Rowe of 216 South Orange street and Mrs. Volney Philp spent Wednesday afternoon in Huntington Park, where they were the guests at a lovely afternoon affair given by Mrs. Arthur Kee.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Weger of 332 Ethel street are entertaining their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Metheringham of Jackson, Michigan, for a few days. The Methringhams are touring California and are so impressed with Glendale that they hope some day to be residents here. This is Mrs. Metheringham's second visit to California.

Mrs. R. H. Tremain of Inka, Kansas, is here visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Lloyd Smith, 504 Fairmont avenue. She says her daughter, Stella, who visited here last year, is now in the College of Missions, Indianapolis, completing her course and will sail for China next September to take a position as teacher in the Girls' School at Lojufu. She expects to visit in Glendale a few weeks before starting.
